

Introducing...
KATE WOLF

Kate Wolf is a coach, author, speaker and the founder of Spirited Business. As a catalyst for creative self-expression, Kate helps highly sensitive entrepreneurs to stop bowing at the altar of What Other People Think and to dare to share their own unique voice. Her lovingly crafted body of work supports business owners to become wildly successful, in ways that allow them to burn bright, not out.

Kate is a captivating and engaging speaker, with the ability to deeply resonate with audiences through the power of story – and through daring to share her own wild, vulnerable, authentic voice. Kate's clients lovingly call her 'the story doula' - she weaves together her unique gifts of deep intuition, storytelling magic and the practical ability to bring an idea through into communicable form, helping brilliantly sensitive business-owners turn bland or confusing messaging into brands that beam with personality.

Kate is a stand for speaking from the heart, with clarity, purpose and concision. Kate shares her wisdom within her community, Highly Sensitive Wildly Successful, a haven for highly sensitive women, with over 650 members. She supports business-owners through her signature coaching programmes, including StorySchool – a 5 week primer to finding and sharing your authentic story and Mesmerise – a year-long mastermind / adventure into business growth. Kate is available for podcast appearances, summits, speaking opportunities both in-person and online and other collaborative projects.
